Date: May 20, 2024

To: Pastors, priests, deacons, religious, principals, parish catechetical leaders, parish business managers and college campus ministers

From: Andrew Lichtenwalner, director, Office of Evangelization and Discipleship

Re: National Eucharistic Pilgrimage and June 22 Day of Eucharistic Service

The National Eucharistic Pilgrimage will be coming through our archdiocese on June 21-23, along the St. Juan Diego Route. We ask you to please encourage your communities to register (at no cost) for one or more of the gatherings here in the archdiocese. Flyers are available at archatl.com/revival for promotion.

As part of this historic opportunity, Archbishop Hartmayer is calling all parishes and families to participate in an archdiocesan-wide Parish Day of Eucharistic Service on June 22, if possible, and to ground these efforts in prayer. In addition, Catholic Charities of Atlanta will be offering an online drive this day to assist refugees who have come to the archdiocese—see flyer for additional details.

Other activities include a special noon Mass, celebrated by Archbishop Hartmayer, with the pilgrims in the Hyland Center at the Cathedral of Christ the King on Sunday June 23, followed by a Eucharistic procession, and much more! Please see a complete schedule of activities here and encourage registration.

Those planning processions or activities for Corpus Christi may find resources for Eucharistic processions, general intercessions and more here <https://archatl.com/revival/community-resources/>. These are also great opportunities to help us promote the national Eucharistic pilgrimage and congress and to pray for pilgrims and travelers.

Over 300 people from the Archdiocese of Atlanta are already registered to attend the National Eucharistic Congress in Indianapolis (July 17-21). There may be a small number of free five-day passes remaining—please contact Elaine Phillips at ephillips@archatl.com if you are interested. Discounted registration for archdiocesan attendees will remain open for the next several weeks, and more information is available at archatl.com/revival.
