There are six regular 5 week cycles in the VLCFF calendar year (and one 3 week cycle that is reserved for seminars only). The Certificate in Catechesis Program requires approximately two years to complete if all twelve courses are taken consecutively. Each course earns 2.5 CEU credits (Continuing Education Units) or 30 CEUs total credit.

When the Certificate in Catechesis is completed, the student will have completed the course work requirement that allows them to apply for master catechist status if and when the other requirements for master catechist status are fulfilled.

The Certificate in Catechesis is now being made available to all parishes in the Archdiocese of Atlanta.

Frequently Asked Questions

What is VLCFF?

The Virtual Learning Community for Faith Formation (VLCFF) at the University of Dayton is a growing initiative to offer adult religious education and faith formation anytime and anywhere online via the Internet. The goal is to support the church's professional ministry of religious education and faith formation in cyberspace. The Archdiocese of Atlanta is a "partner" diocese in the VLCFF program which entitles students to reduced fees for the VLCFF programs and courses.

What is the Certificate in Catechesis?

The Certificate in Catechesis Program is a ministry education program for adults in all areas of catechetical ministry. It equips catechists and teachers with the knowledge, skills, practical tools, and techniques needed for creative and comprehensive catechetical ministry.

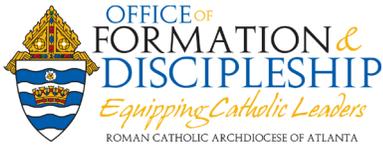

The Certificate in Catechesis is recognized by the Office of Formation & Discipleship as one of the required foundation components for awarding of Master Catechist status. The certificate alone does not confer Master Catechist status. The other requirements to achieve Master Catechist status are spelled out in "Communicating the Catholic Message" (CCM), the official Catechist Certification guideline for the Archdiocese of Atlanta. (See Chapter 9, Page 85 of Communicating the Catholic Message. Go to www.archatl.com under Office of Formation & Discipleship for detailed information about Master Catechist requirements.). Questions about certification should be directed to the Office of Formation & Discipleship.

How does the program work?

The VLCFF program is an online program available for access 24/7, 365. The student is required to submit programmed work assignment to an online facilitator and the other members of a class (called a cohort) who respond individually and collectively by means of an online Discussion Board. Being assessable online, the students can work the program into their particular lifestyle and schedule their course work when it is most convenient, any hour of the day or night.

How long does it take to get a certificate?

It would be academically possible for a cohort to complete as many as six courses in a calendar year if the courses were taken consecutively. Therefore, a student or cohort could complete all 12 courses in two years.

What is a “cohort”?

All VLCFF courses operate with cohorts. The term cohort means a group of students who form a class unit and stay together during the entire course or program. The students in each cohort would be classmates throughout the program. There is an option to form a cohort within a parish or groups of parishes or allow VLCFF to assign a student to a cohort made up of students in other parts of the U.S. or globally.

What does the VLCFF Certificate in Catechesis Program cost?

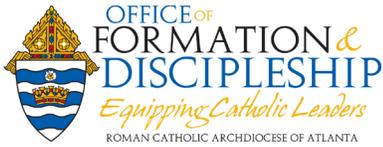

The Archdiocese, through the Office of Formation and Discipleship, is offering a special tuition grant of $25 per student per course, or a total of $300 for all 12 courses. The total fee of $300 is due and payable in advance. The normal rate is $100 per course for non-participating dioceses and $50 per course for partner dioceses. OFD is absorbing half of the tuition as an incentive to get more catechists certified in catechesis. In addition to the course fee, the student must pay a one-time, non-refundable fee of $25 for enrolling in a certificate program. Some courses require text books that can be purchased separately through VLCFF. The books are reasonably priced in relation to university level textbooks.

Is the program available in Spanish?

No, the entire program is not available in Spanish. However, it may be possible to create a Spanish-speaking cohort if there are enough interested Spanish-speaking participants. VLCFF has Spanish-literate facilitators and are working on translating the course content.

When will the program start?

The Atlanta cohort of the Certificate in Catechesis program is scheduled to start in the first VLCFF course cycle in January 2020. If you are interested in forming or joining a cohort, please fill in the attached application and forward it to Bill Clarke, wclarke@archatl.com or FAX to 404-920-7621. If you have questions, call direct to Bill Clarke at 404-920-7635.

Student Learning Contract—Certificate in Catechesis

The purpose of this learning contract is to specify the roles and responsibilities of the student applicant to ensure that there are no misunderstandings about the Catechesis Program.

Student Responsibilities—the overriding responsibility is to recognize that you are responsible and accountable for all that you do or fail to do in the program. The program offers the opportunity to achieve a foundation in Catechesis that can lead to Master Catechist status if all other requirements are met.

1. You will exhibit a sincere effort and commitment to fulfill your responsibilities as a student.
2. You will start the program with the intent of completing all twelve (12) courses and complete the program with your cohort.
3. You will commit to full participation in each course by doing your weekly assignments on time and in line with your Instructor's guidelines. Specifically, you will allocate a minimum of five to ten (5-10) hours each week for designated reading assignments and posting three (3) or more responses on the Online Course Discussion Board.
4. You will participate from Monday through Saturday of each week and not wait until the end of the week to initiate your reading and posting to the Discussion Board.
5. You will check your VLCFF mail box daily for messages from the Instructor or fellow students.
6. If you experience a problem in completing your assignments, you will take the initiative to contact your Instructor ASAP to explain your situation and determine the best way to get up to date.
7. You will practice common courtesy with high standards of professionalism in all of your postings and exchanges with your Instructor, the VLCFF staff and fellow students.
8. If you fail to complete the full program of twelve (12) courses, you will have the option of completing the program by enrolling individually for the remaining courses without the benefit of the tuition incentive paid by the Archdiocese. The course fee for any remaining courses would revert to the member diocese rate of $50 per course. If you drop out and fail to complete all courses, the Archdiocese will bill you for the tuition incentive or $25 for all courses not completed. In addition, the VLCFF portion of the tuition for all non-completed courses is non-refundable.
9. You will be responsible for advising the cohort coordinator of your intent to enroll in each course and purchasing any books or course materials, in advance of starting a course.
10. You will be responsible for paying the student portion of the course fees ($25 x 12 course = $300) in advance of starting the first course. If your course fees will be reimbursed by a third party, you are responsible for paying the fees and securing your reimbursement. VLCFF will not bill third parties.
11. You will be personally responsible for resolving any issues concerning VLCFF policies or practices. OFD has no responsibility or input into the development or administration of the VLCFF programs.

12. You will be graded by your Instructor on a scale of: Good, Very Good or Distinguished for each course. You are responsible for resolving any questions or issues involving grades with your Instructor and/or VLCFF.
13. Upon the satisfactory completion of the Catechesis Program, you will receive a Certificate in Catechesis from VLCFF University of Dayton.
14. You may choose to apply for Master Catechist Certification in Catechesis from the Archdiocese of Atlanta when all other requirements have been fulfilled and submitted. (See Communicating the Catholic Message, Chapter 9, Page 85 for all requirements.)

Student Acknowledgement: By signing this Learning Contract, the student agrees to comply with all program requirements.
